Thank you all for coming here today on this first-aid course. We're going to start with some safety advice. It could save your life or someone you are looking after.

There are a lot of things you can do to avoid danger, and to keep safe. Just a few simple tips could save your life, so listen carefully.

First, if you are in a big storm with thunder and lightning, stay indoors if you can. That's the best thing to do. If you're outdoors, try to keep away from trees and find some low ground.

Second, you must be careful when you are swimming. Surprisingly, it's often people who can swim who drown. Don't swim when the weather is bad or where there are strong currents. Even strong swimmers can get into danger then.

Third, what should you do in a fire? The main thing to do when a fire breaks out in a public place or building is to stay calm. Most people make mistakes in a fire because they run. The most important thing to do is leave the building calmly and quickly, and call the fire services.

Finally, be careful with electricity. Electricity isn't dangerous unless you ignore the rules. Never use electricity near water and always follow the instructions on electrical equipment.
